God, who is the giver of every good gift, you are ever present in our lives and in the world. You act through us, your people, to care for and provide for everyone. We pray for the courage to break out of our insecurity and fear around money as we deepen our understanding of our relationship to you and how we use our financial resources to do your work in the world. We pray these things that we might know you better, that you will increase our desire and ability to give and help others through ministry and friendship and to gratefully commit ourselves to the work you have given us to do. Amen. Borrowed from Trinity Episcopal Church, Swanton, Vermont

FROM THE INTERIM RECTOR

Holy Week

Sometimes when I'm reading a really exciting novel, and one of my favorite characters seems to be in peril, I will turn to the end of the novel to see if that character is still around. I don't actually read the end first. I just thumb through the pages until I see the character's name. I want to know how things turn out in case I need to be prepared for the worst. I always go back and pick up at the spot where I had my anxiety attack. I owe it to the author, and to myself, to see how the characters come to end up where they end up.

We know how the story of the Passion comes out in the end. Jesus is resurrected from the dead. But if we don't go back to see how he comes to end up where he ends up, we are not doing the author of the story justice. If we don't go back to see where the story started, we miss important details, and the climax becomes, well—anticlimactic.

On Palm Sunday, we begin with Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem. In a way, we are coming in at the middle of the story. The Gospel writers make sure we know that Jesus is God's chosen one, the one prophesied of old, the king who will restore and preserve David's throne forever. But Jesus is not the kind of king people are expecting. Jesus enters Jerusalem on a beast of burden rather than a war horse.

This unlikely king comes into his kingdom through his own death, rather than by the sword. This king comes not to wield earthly power, but to fulfill Isaiah's dream of a kingdom in which every mountain and hill will be made low, the uneven ground will become level, and the rough places will be smoothed over. Isaiah's prophecy is not about geographical upheaval. It describes a new reality where everyone will be equally loved and equally valued in the eyes of God, and all of creation will live in peace.

If we want to know how Jesus comes to end up where he ends up—seated in glory at the right hand of the Father, and how we come to end up where we end up—gathered at the banquet table with Jesus, we need to hear the story from the beginning.

On Maundy Thursday, Jesus outlines the agenda for his reign. He gives us a new commandment, that we love one another and serve one another. In the Eucharist, he gives us a foretaste of the heavenly banquet.

On Good Friday, we hear in John's gospel how those who have power in this world do everything in their power to stop this new kingdom from coming. Jesus pays the highest price to restore and reconcile creation to God. It is a price we cannot pay, and indeed, do not want to pay. We want the crown without the cross.

Turning the page to Easter without walking through the Passion fails to acknowledge the cost Jesus paid. And it fails to acknowledge our own responsibility for the separation between God and creation.

When I was in college, it took me forever to finish War and Peace—not because it's such a long book, but because I didn't want Prince André to die. I figured if I just stopped reading, he would stay alive. When I finally finished the book, I understood why he had to die.

Jesus is going to rise from the dead whether or not we stay with him through his passion and death. But think how much more meaningful Easter will be if we know the whole story. And don't tell me you've heard the story before. Anyone who has experience reading bedtime stories to young children knows that a beloved story can be new every day—for months on end.

There's one more part of the salvation story that you don't want to miss. The Easter Vigil starts from the very beginning of God's story, and makes it clear how we come to end up where we end up. It tells of creation, the flood, and God's deliverance of the Israelites. It reminds us that God has always been calling God's people back, and promising God's people that creation will be restored—in a new and surprising way. It reminds us that Jesus, the anointed one, brings light into a dark world. And in the renewal of our baptismal vows, it reminds us that we are a part of this new creation.

Holy Week is our once-a-year opportunity to hear the whole story of how much God loves us, how much God promises us, and how much God expects of us in response to that love. Nothing is more important, more moving, more exciting, or more life-changing than the story of God's redeeming work. So, I invite you and encourage you this week not to miss a minute of the greatest story ever told. -Sarah+ assists with the pastoral care needs of the parish. We provide home/hospital visits, deliver flowers from the Sunday arrangements, provide meals as needed, write notes of sympathy, healing or encouragement, provide transportation, and provide short periods of respite for caregivers. Each function has a team. Two new services are being added: welcoming newcomers and contacting those not seen for a while. If you would be interested in serving on any of these teams, please let the office know. If you know of any needs or illness, please notify the office. In February 2019 we provided transportation three times, delivered flowers once and sent two notes of healing and sympathy.

PARISH MINISTRIES

The Vestry is pleased to announce that a partnership has been formed between All Saints' and Mississippi United to End Homelessness (MUTEH). In 1991, MUTEH began its mission to end homelessness in the state of Mississippi by providing the homeless population with appropriate housing, a connection to community resources, while stabilizing clients during the transitional period. MUTEH continues to partner with organizations on local and state levels, as well as within cities around the state, in a constant effort to serve the hardest-to-reach populations and put an end to homelessness. MUTEH will further their work and mission through our Saints' Brew ministry as well as meeting clients where they are "out in the field". All Saints' will help to provide resources that will enhance their work. For more information about MUTEH's mission, visit <https://www.muteh.org/>.

SAINTS' BREW FEBRUARY ACTIVITIES

Coffee and Conversation is a joint program between the Tupelo Homeless Task Force, Mississippi United to End Homelessness, The Family Resource Center, and Saints' Brew. It is held on the first Tuesday of the month at the Lee County Library at 9:00 a.m. This time allows service providers to interact with the homeless and at-risk community in a relaxed setting and fosters better communication and trust. In February, Coffee and Conversation was on Tuesday, February 5 and we had 12 attendees.

The Ole Miss Pro Bono Initiative, Mississippi Volunteer Lawyers Project, and dedicated local legal volunteers held their quarterly free legal clinic on Thursday, February 7. Nine clients attended and received legal advice on a wide variety of legal issues.

I attended the Tupelo-Lee County Hunger Coalition meeting on February 11 and discussed upcoming projects with other food insecurity agencies in the Tupelo, Lee County area.

Every month the Tupelo homeless outreach team has a day of outreach where anyone in the community can volunteer to do outreach with our area homeless community. Saints' Brew is always the first stop during the outreach day. Sara and Allen with MUTEH, along with myself and other community volunteers were in the field on February 12 to make contact with any new faces and to check-up with the homeless individuals we know. We also check the encampments and other hot spots during the day.

During the February 21 Homeless Task Force meeting the group brainstormed ideas on how to further develop resource materials for referral agencies such as Saints' Brew.

During the month of February, we had two significant equipment issues. First the walk-in freezer's compressor went out. We had to discard some food items from the freezer, but the majority of it was deemed safe to keep because it was held at an appropriate temperature. The second issue pertained to the pilot light going out on the kitchen oven/stove. I cooked the grits at my house on Sunday night and the Monday team was able to heat and serve the grits on Monday. Both equipment issues have been resolved.

My goal is also to run at least one "passive" program per month that is timely and pertinent to the season/time of year. February's passive program was focused on flu prevention. I put up flu prevention flyers, multiple bottles of hand sanitizer, along with hand washing stations (soap and paper towels) at the sink on the coffee bar and in the break-out room.

CHRISTIAN FORMATION

The Sunday Lectionary at 9:30 a.m. Led by Les Alvis

As we move through Lent, the scripture passages in the Sunday Lectionary Class include themes of wilderness and conflict, culminating with what many consider Jesus' most important and best-loved parable. These texts promise to make for engaging discussion. The Sunday Lectionary Class meets every Sunday at 9:30 a.m. in the south breakout room of the Parish Hall. Each gathering begins with a presentation of the day's Bible readings followed by lively conversation. Consider taking up the Sunday Lectionary Class for Lent. Call the church office to start receiving the class' weekly email.

CATECHESIS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD Sundays at 9:30 a.m.

Level I: Children ages 3 years – 2nd grade

Level II: Children in 3rd – 6th grade

As we continue our journey through Lent, the children will explore the City of Jerusalem and locate, name and identify the important historical locations and key people in Jerusalem, where the events of Holy Week took place.

Later in April, the children will learn how Jesus established a new covenant at the Last Supper because he knew he would be crucified and rise again. At the Passover meal, Jesus provided his disciples (and all people) a connection to God's eternal plan through the gift of himself through his body and blood.

As we enter the Easter season, the children will explore the Empty Tomb to lift up the resurrection as the fulfillment of God's plan, and to contemplate the mystery of the risen Christ. Life is stronger than death; light is stronger than darkness.

Continuing through the Great 50 Days of Easter, the children will explore Jesus as the Good Shepherd and how he gave to us his Body and Blood through the bread and wine of the Holy Eucharist.

THE JOURNEY

In Great Lent, Alexander Schmemmann writes that “even though we are baptized, what we constantly lose and betray is precisely that which we received at baptism. Therefore Easter is our return every year to our own baptism, whereas Lent is our preparation for that return – the slow and sustained effort to perform, at the end, our own ‘passage’ or ‘pascha’ into the new life in Christ. . . . Each year Lent and Easter are, once again, the rediscovery and the recovery by us of what we were made through our own baptismal death and resurrection.”

The hinge that connects Lent and Easter is the very heart and soul of the Christian faith. That period of time from Sunday-to-Saturday is called “Holy Week,” since it is during those days that we enter the events that accomplished our salvation. Above all others, this is the time when Christians are to be most faithful in responding to God through worship.

These services come to us from the practices of the earliest Christians. The liturgies form a sacred journey, by which we prepare ourselves for the greatest of all celebrations: Easter. Indeed, these several services are actually one protracted liturgy, and for full meaning we must go from start to finish. We cannot truly know the surpassing joy of Easter without taking part in those shattering events that led to Christ’s death and burial.

Holy Week is a real “roller-coaster,” and is emotionally draining (which is just how it should be!). It is a time when – mystically – you become part of what happened during those last fateful days of Jesus’ earthly life. From that, you will come to experience more meaningfully your sharing in his Resurrection.

Quote from Alexander Schmemmann, Great Lent (St. Vladimir’s Seminary Press, 1969).

THE SUNDAY OF THE PASSION: PALM SUNDAY

April 14

Holy Eucharist 8:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m.

Today’s liturgy is in two parts. The Liturgy of the Palms celebrates Jesus’ entry into Jerusalem at the beginning of the week of his Passion. After we hear Luke’s account of that event, the celebrant gives thanks over the branches which we carry. In many congregations a procession with branches then moves into the church building, with festive songs of “Hosanna in the highest!” as we enact the event which led directly to Good Friday. The second part of today’s liturgy changes from triumph to tragedy as it focuses on the suffering and death of Jesus. The account of the Lord’s Passion is a reading from Luke’s Gospel, so that we may have a fuller sense of sharing with him in his redemptive acts of dying and rising for our salvation. Today we enter into the celebration of the mighty acts of God which brought about our redemption. During this week, we will rediscover what God has done for us, rediscover the meaning of our Baptism and rediscover the meaning of our sharing in the Eucharist.

MAUNDY THURSDAY

April 18

7:00 p.m. Holy Eucharist, Foot Washing &
Stripping of the Altar in the church

Tonight's Eucharist—on the eve of Good Friday—begins the Sacred Triduum, or Three Sacred Days, of our redemption. This is a celebration: a celebration of our Lord's institution of the sacrament of his Body and blood; but it is pervaded by the shadow of the cross. Jesus gathered with his disciples in the context of the greatest of all events in Israel's redemption—the exodus and the Passover. Yet the normal joy of such an evening was muted by betrayal, the failure of his friends to understand what he was doing, and his own fear of what was to come.

It was at a farewell dinner that Jesus, by washing his disciples' feet, sought to illustrate one final time the character of love and ministry which is central in the life to which he calls us: self-giving love to the point of dying for one's friends. Through scripture, we hear the ancient instructions for celebrating the Passover, Paul's account of the institution of the Eucharist, and John's account of the moment when Jesus washed his disciples' feet. After Holy Communion tonight, the liturgy will not end. It continues tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday, when it comes to its conclusion. We will take the Sacrament which remains tonight and place it on the Altar of Repose at the chapel next door to the church. You are invited to keep vigil there in response to Jesus' question, "Could you not watch with me for one hour?"

GOOD FRIDAY

April 19

12:05 p.m.
Good Friday Liturgy & Veneration of the Cross

Today's liturgy is the second part of a complex series of rites which cover the Three Sacred Days of our redemption. This liturgy began last night and will be concluded on Sunday. We will engage in intense intercessory prayer for the church and for the world. It was on the cross that Jesus made his full intercession for us, and we are united with him through Baptism in that intercession. The final portions of this liturgy take place before a cross, where we praise Christ for his love, which he demonstrated on the cross. At the end of the liturgy, the church is left in silence and darkness, as we prepare for the final act, which begins at the Great Vigil on Saturday night. It is as though the church has died and now waits silently to be resurrected out of the baptismal font at the Great Vigil of Easter. Today we hear John's account in Holy Scripture of the Lord's trial, suffering, and death.

HOLY SATURDAY

April 20

Liturgy of the Word 10:00 a.m.

“Something strange is happening — there is a great silence on earth today, a great silence and stillness. The whole earth keeps silence because the King is asleep. The earth trembled and is still because God has fallen asleep in the flesh and he has raised up all who have slept ever since the world began. God has died in the flesh and hell trembles with fear.”

Holy Saturday, also called the Holy Sabbath and the Great Sabbath, is an empty day, the day when Christ rested in the tomb and all creation awaited the resurrection. The Book of Common Prayer has contained propers for a Liturgy of the Word on this day since 1549. With the church still bare, as on Good Friday, the people gather in silence to hear the propers appointed for the day, including the conclusion of the Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John, followed by the anthem “In the midst of life” from the Burial Office. All leave the church in silence.

EASTER EVE - THE GREAT VIGIL OF EASTER

April 20

The Great Vigil of Easter 7:00 p.m.

We gather in the darkness of the night on which Jesus rose from the dead. This service is unlike any other service in the year. It is the Christian Passover feast, in which we celebrate the Passover of Jesus from death into life and our own passover from death into life in Holy Baptism. The service has four parts.

The Service of Light

We gather to kindle a fire to drive away the darkness, and from the new fire a large candle is lighted, called the paschal candle. As it is carried into the midst of our assembly the priest sings out “The light of Christ,” and we respond “Thanks be to God.” From this candle, the people light their own small candles, and the church is filled with the light of Christ. Then another singer sings the ancient hymn known as the Exsultet, which praises God for this night in which the ancient people of Israel were delivered from Egypt at the Red Sea, in which Christ rose from the dead, and in which we are baptized into his death and resurrection.

The Vigil

We then settle down, and with music punctuating the readings, we hear a number of passages from the Old Testament which cover the major events of salvation history. Each reading is followed by a collect which relates the reading to our salvation and our Baptism.

Baptism / Renewal of Baptismal Vows

By reminding us of our sacred story, the readings have reaffirmed our identity as the people of God, the Body of Christ. Now we initiate new members into the church by water and the Holy Spirit. It is in the rising of the newly baptized from the waters of Baptism that the Resurrection of Christ is renewed in our midst. When we, the members of his Body, stand in prayer, the Body of Christ is risen and made visible to the world. We also recall our baptisms and renew the promises and vows we made at our baptisms.

Holy Eucharist

This is the Eucharist of the year—the one of which all our other Eucharists are repetitions. In this Eucharist, Paul reminds us that in Baptism we have died with Christ in order that we may be raised with him, and we hear Luke’s account of the women who had come with Jesus from Galilee bringing spices to the tomb to anoint the body of Jesus, only to be told that Jesus was risen from the dead. In sign and Sacrament, holy story and song, the dying and rising of Jesus in the midst of the people is once again enacted. Sharing in the holy gifts of the altar, we find ourselves made one with Christ and rejoice in this foretaste of the glory of God’s kingdom.

THE SUNDAY OF THE RESURRECTION: EASTER DAY

April 21

Holy Eucharist 8:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m.

Today the church completes its three great days of celebrating redemption. Since Maundy Thursday, we have been involved in an extended liturgy which will be brought to its conclusion today. This is the celebration of the Passover of Christ from death into life. Martin Luther captured the true meaning and spirit of this day of celebration when he wrote: “Christ Jesus lay in death’s strong bonds for our offences given; but now at God’s right hand he stands and brings us light from heaven. Wherefore let us joyful be and sing to God right thankfully loud songs of Hallelujah! Hallelujah!”

As we rejoice in our new life in the risen Christ on this day, he comes among us and is made known to us in the breaking of the bread. We are sent forth to tell others of his resurrection. May you find in this gathering the assurance that God is even now raising you to new life.

Throughout the Great Fifty Days of Easter, the preferred first reading on Sundays is from the Acts of the Apostles rather than from the Old Testament. These weekly readings from Acts describe the life of the first Christians and their proclamation of Christ’s resurrection. So today we hear a portion of the sermon Peter preached to Cornelius, the first Gentile Christian and in the passage from Paul’s first letters to the Corinthians a summary of the gospel of Christ’s death and resurrection. Both of these two readings are classic examples of kerygma, the very essence of the earliest Christian apostolic preaching. The Gospel is John’s account of the Resurrection, in which Mary encounters the risen Lord and shares the news with the disciples.
